Dear NJ-SP School Community:

There is much excitement in our school community. The capital projects are wrapping up. Upgrades to lighting, HVAC, and security/surveillance have enhanced our school climate and environment. We are using energy efficiently and will experience a more controlled climate. The tennis courts and ball fields have been renovated, modernizing the look and feel of our campus.

I am very proud of the result we've had. As we embarked on this project, there was respect for the concerns of the community. Together, we came up with a plan that we all could feel good about. We were concerned about cost and we were concerned about quality education for our students. The community should take pride in our school and in this project. So many people have stepped up to make sure things came together. I want to especially thank our Director of Maintenance, Wilbur Collins and our School Board members. Mr. Collins was resolute in ensuring that timelines and budgets were kept. Board members supported the project every step of the way by asking questions and getting clarifications during each project update.

While I am proud of the end result of our building project, I am now looking forward to our next project in a few years at NJ-SP Elementary School. Enhancements and upgrades are necessary at that building. We will not take the planning stage lightly, as we will work with Umbaugh and associates for strategies in using bonds; and work with our architects in creating options in the scope of work to be done. We are at least two years out for any major capital projects at the elementary school, however we will use that time for strategic planning and preparing. Good things are happening at NJ-SP. Thank you for your continued support while we educate our students.

Sincerely,
